WHAT IF ...

the industry meets up in Stuttgart and you are not there?

R+T 2027 will determine what becomes the market standard of tomorrow in the world of roller shutters, doors/gates and sun shading systems. Here, you'll find out everything you need to know about technology, trends and future developments – first-hand and long before it appears in brochures or online videos.

Around 1,000 exhibitors from 45 countries will present their product innovations on an area of 120,000 square metres. Nowhere else will you find such an impressive range of exhibits and such a wealth of genuine innovations. Those who miss out will miss more than just products – they will also miss insights that could make a real difference to their business.

A wide range of expert forums, special exhibitions and networking events offers the opportunity to engage with leading figures from the industry and take away practical solutions to your everyday challenges. Make the most of the accompanying programme – or let your competitors get ahead of you.
