VISION START-UP WORLD

Start-up? Then get ready to take off now!

Is your company active in the fields of machine vision and computer vision? Do you develop, for example, state-of-the-art camera technology, software in the areas of artificial intelligence and deep learning, or interesting machine vision systems?

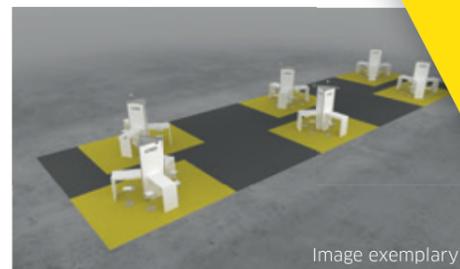

If so, you can now secure the future of your company at the world's leading trade fair for machine vision: the Start-up World during VISION will enable you to present your innovations to the industry.

You will also have the opportunity to take part in our special start-up formats: register for the pitches during the Industrial VISION Days Forum. The call for papers will be sent out in spring 2026.

Secure your participation right now and impress customers and potential investors!
